

Call for Papers and Films - ICTMD Study Group on Audiovisual Ethnomusicology The 4th International Symposium, Shanghai (China), 16–18 July 2025

in-person conference

Hosting institutions: Shanghai Conservatory of Music, Shanghai, China.

Conference venue: Shanghai Conservatory of Music, Shanghai, China

Conference dates: 16-18 July, 2025

The 4th International Symposium of the ICTMD Study Group on Audiovisual Ethnomusicology will take place as a joint event with the 4th China Music Ethnographic Film Festival (CMEFF). This Symposium aims to advance discussions on the growing importance of audiovisual media in ethnomusicological research and the ways it facilitates the creation, dissemination, and experience of ethnomusicological knowledge. By fostering debates on the methodologies and roles of audiovisual practices, this event will offer scholars, filmmakers, and practitioners a space for critical reflection on the emerging field of audiovisual ethnomusicology.

We warmly invite submissions of papers and films from scholars and filmmakers in ethnomusicology, folklore, anthropology, and related fields. We particularly welcome contributions that explore the audiovisual ethnomusicological history of your own country/region or your fieldwork area. In addition, submissions related to any topic within audiovisual ethnomusicology are also encouraged. Submissions that incorporate ethnomusicological research methodologies, explore innovative ways to utilize audiovisual materials in research, education, and public outreach, or focus on music-making in ethnic minority communities are particularly welcome.

Conference Language

- Papers & workshops: Presentations should be in English (in the case of other languages, the speaker should provide English subtitles or an interpreter).
- Films: English subtitles are required for films presented in other languages.

Submissions

The deadline for submissions is 28 Feb. 2025. All proposals should be sent to qiaogiao Cheng922@gmail.com with the subject line indicating whether your submission is a paper, a film or a workshop. The email should include the name of the author(s), the title of the presentation, and an attached file (Word or Open Office format) containing the abstract (max. 250 words) and 5 keywords without any reference to authorship. Each individual may submit up to one proposal in each category (i.e., 1 paper + 1 film).

Papers: Presentations will be allocated 20 minutes, followed by a 10-minute discussion. The use of audiovisual materials during presentations is encouraged.

Films: We welcome full-length ethnographic films (maximum 90 minutes), short films, and curated collections of short films (2-4 films) that share a thematic connection. Film abstracts must include a hyperlink to a trailer, teaser, or the complete film. The Film Committee may request the full film for evaluation. Films should be available in at least 1080p resolution and should not exceed 5GB in file size. The submitted abstract (max. 250 words) should explain the film's ethnographic significance, purpose, and engagement with ethnomusicological themes.

Workshops: There is no particular format or form for the workshop proposals, but they should be non-presentational occasions of sharing experience-based knowledge of specific audiovisual technologies, research techniques, etc. Workshops should not exceed 2 hours. The organizers must specify into the abstract any special equipment request.

Evaluation Process

All paper submissions will be reviewed using a double-blind peer-review system. Each abstract will be evaluated by two anonymous reviewers, with a third reviewer involved if necessary. Notifications of acceptance will be sent by 30 March 2025.

Registration Fee

- Waged participants: €80
- Students and unwaged participants: €60

The registration fee will cover conference meals (lunch and tea/coffee breaks) during symposium hours.
